Does anybody care about me anymore?

by gottemsquickfoot · Mar 15, 2016, 11:19:04 AM Journals / Personal

Well, this is my so called watchers. I've taken all the hints from you and finally realized none of you care about my work to even offer me the comments or critique on it needed to improve. If I do group projects like my createspacion deck journal, everyone will pretend I don't exist since they never cared about me as a person, only wanting me to produce things so they can go, "hey, that's neat," fave it and run away cause they don't actually care about the person who makes the thing, only paying the barest minimum of attention to the things that do show up on here due to having the attention span of a gerbil on crack.

I know stupid shitty drama journals like these don't help anybody but they do get noticed which is what I desperately need. I need to feel like the stuff on do on here and furaffinity actually matters and that I'm not just making stuff for a faceless horde that wouldn't even care if I got cancer or a relative died.

There is also a large part of me that is considering deleting everything on my furaffinity account and on here and just getting a life outside of the internet since it's clear this outlet of getting friends is not working and has not worked once for several years.

So the question here is this. If I were to die right this very second, how many of you, my watchers would actually care that I was gone as a person and not as a way to get shitty stories and profiles for free.

... Let me tell you this right now.
I speak for everyone here.
Not just me, but sylvia, Dreamer, Midrigo..... WE ALL CARE ABOUT YOU!

You're our friend, and we care about how you feel.

Please, don't go down that road again.
You're life is just starting, and I want to be able to actually talk with my first DA friend in person 10 years from now.

Just because we don't comment on something, or fav it, it doesn't mean we don't care. We love your work! Me personally, it's thanks to your work I can smile on days when I should be crying.

I lost my grandmother two year ago..... My dad is moving to Canada in a few weeks.....

I don't want to lose one of my only other friends....

Unlike most people.... I don't have hardly any friends ir....
Look... the point is, we appreciate your work, and we want you to keep at it.
You've inspired so many people, and you even help midrigo out as well.
For me..... your my one of my closest friends here.... and I don't know what I would do if you left....
So please, please don't leave us....

Me personally... I won't deny, i'm one of those people who hasn't commented on alot of your work... But, that's only because I don't have the confidence to give a critique on your work..... I'm not half the writer you are. So I don't feel like could help all that much...

However... in light of this journal.... I'm going to try....

If you wanna talk about it more, we could skype if wanted to. My skype is sorarocks531.

I'm gonna be trying to skype with sylvia later today.

Anyways, I care about your work, and I want to help you be a better writer. If you'd want me to, I'll try and be more active here.

JUST PLEASE!! DON'T QUIT!
I DON'T KNOW WHAT I'LL DO IF YOU LEAVE!!!! ;^;

you know to be honest I would take the other guy's advice, if you want change in your life you have to be the one to seek it out, I didn't go to collage because I had to or I was made to, I wanted to go so I could start to do something with my life so I could do something with my life. event the damn road to college was hard and I want to be a comic book artist myself to tell the story I have envisioned of my characters, I even want to keep improving my own art to strive for that goal. I honestly can't count the amount of times I've wanted to draw, even when I've been stupid and worked myself into the ground. I don't even want to go into the Drama I've cause on the way there the less said on that the better. The point at the end. if you honestly want change in your life, like in my experience wanting to strive to do something with your life You Your self have to be the one who Seeks that out. that is all I'm going to say on this.

Improve? For what? For a crowd of people who don't even care if you're alive?

Jamison.

If you want change, then don't demand it. Make it happen. If you would like, I can be brutally honest with you. Not only in your monsters, but in your stories. The reason why I haven't because I value our friendship.

I have an excercise for you and it's going to be a bit different if you're interested.

Forget it. Since no one cared about what I made. I've decided to delete all of the pointless garbage I made and ditch this site. You won't even notice that I'm

I honestly would grieve and miss you if you were gone. I like to consider you a good friend.

Consider our friendship over at this point. I've realized the pointlessness of it all.

Reply

I Highly disagree with that, but I'm not going to force you to change what you've done. I'll give you space right now. I'll be here if you need me.

I would care; I would miss you.

Don't assume nobody gives a fuck about you, because I do.

I always have and will care about you.

The reason I don't respond? Life. Life has been such a thing for me.

You should stop assuming things, because I've been with you ever since you fell out with me many times.

Yet you always came back.

Reply

Because you know that I'm a good friend.

And what about that gift I made for you on your birthday just because I knew you'd want to see it? You never even glanced it because of your own personal life. You don't need my shitty drama. What you need to do is to enjoy your own life and forget about a worthless fallure like me.

Again: I had to go out that day, so I forgot to see it. Apologies for that.

Barely anyone else would though. There is no point in trying to make things online since no one will give a fuck either way.

Oh I would care. I comment on your stuff and really like your decks! They're cool! Now I don't comment on all of them but I do comment. So of course I would care if you died! I love watching your art and stories and awesome creatures you post

Great. Another person who will tell me I'm a awesome person when I'm actually a shitty asshole and will say a lot of things about helping me but never actually does anything to help in the first place.

Reply

11buddy14 Mar 15, 2016

Aww come on. I think you are very creative with your characters and decks :3 I legitimately love to see your stuff you post

Reply

gottemsquickfoot Mar 15, 2016 | Student Writer

Well, I've stopped caring about what I make for here. The constant stream of apathy and contempt everyone gave me over my time on here pretty much showed me the truth of how meaningless it is to actually try to make stuff for watchers to enjoy on here since they flat out won't give a fuck about it no matter what it is.

Reply

11buddy14 Mar 15, 2016

You keep saying nobody will give a fuck about your postings. But I do. That means there is at least one person who cares.

I don't know

I care. It's just I've been busy with my own projects and work and shit, so yeah.

Reply

gottemquickfoot Mar 15, 2016 | Student Writer

But barely anyone else cares, and that's what's killing me. It seems like no matter what I make on here, no one will ever notice.

Reply

StatenTheGargoyle Mar 15, 2016 | Hobbyist Writer

ADVERTISING! Shit, dude do something to promote your shit. Create a new series or something! Stop bitching about how no one cares when you know you have friends to back you up.

Reply

I haven't friends who don't care of somethings I write, but do you see me going all "One Versus All" on them?

gottemquickfoot Mar 15, 2016 | Student Writer

Yeah, I've had a lot of people advertising the createspacian journal to help me out. Do you know what happened instead? NO ONE FUCKING CARED. I've made dozens of stuff, and worked hard on it, tried to get people interested and no one has even pretended to care. If you keep trying to suggest bullshit methods that I've tried to use and failed at, I'll block you for wasting my time.

Then I don't what to tell ya, Jamie boy. You're on your own.

gottemquickfoot Mar 15, 2016 | Student Writer

I've always been on my own lately. It's a nice way to show how hopeless I am at doing things without someone to guide me.

Hit Hard and Hit Often.

Reply

But seriously stop beating yourself up for no reason. It's uncool.

gottemquickfoot Mar 15, 2016 | Student Writer

The reason is that I'm sick of no one caring about what I do. At it's core, this journal was nothing more than a shitty ploy for attention just like all of my other work on here, only this is the only one I can actually call a success unlike the rest of my work on here.

Does anybody care about me anymore? I've got 3500 followers on DeviantArt. Everyone considers it little better than shit since no one even pretends to care that I made it because I thought other people would like to see it.

I do care. If you were gone, I'd be devastated. Your life is a thing of such astronomical value.

Reply

gottemquickfoot Mar 15, 2016 | Student Writer

To everyone on here, my life has no value, not even as a trolling target. I just don't see the point in making stuff for the internet if the people who see it just consider it so ordinary that it doesn't merit anything, not even a single look, fave, or comment.

Reply

Kit-The-Wolffy Mar 15, 2016 | Student General Artist

I understand. I've experienced that feeling often as well. But your life has a singular objective value to it that can't be denied by the actions of a faceless swarm of Internet denizens. Please remember that, and remember that what you do, you do for yourself as much as for others. I understand that may be cold comfort, but it's the only real advice I can offer. I'm here for you, Jamie. You're a good man who doesn't deserve this apathetic response. I'm also sorry if I've perpetuated it in any way, but I assure you, I cherish everything you make, even if it isn't to my personal taste.

Reply

gottemquickfoot Mar 15, 2016 | Student Writer

That lie is no longer worth anything to me. I made everything in hopes people would like it and the fact that no one has actually liked anything I have ever done proves that my life has no value or meaning.

I care about you! For some reason we never chat, but I do enjoy your work and you.

No one else does though. The vast majority of my watchers wouldn't even notice if I made a journal saying I had six months to live. They'd move on to some other retarded dumb ass who hasn't learned that webistes like this are just made for retards with no lives like me.

Reply

I know... I feel the same way at times...

And the fact you haven't pulled a stunt like this at least once, says your a far better person than me. Just forget about me and let me fail and realize how hopeless it is to actually try to do stuff on here.
